XIO STRATEGIES RECEIVES TWO NOMINATIONS

Recognized for entrepreneurial spirit and excellent work environment

MCLEAN, VIRGINIA – XIO Strategies, Inc., a leader in providing change management and supply chain management to the Federal Government and corporations, is pleased to announce two recent accolades.

As part of “The 8th Annual Women in Technology Leadership Awards”, XIO Strategies President and CEO Mary Ann Wagner has been named a finalist in the “Entrepreneur” category for displaying outstanding leadership and achievements in the technology industry. Since Wagner founded XIO in 2002, it has experienced growth rates of 50 – 75% every year. Award winners will be announced at a dinner on May 17, 2007 at the Hilton McLean, Virginia.

XIO has also been nominated as one of the Washington-metro area’s “Best Places to Work” in the 3rd annual rating by the Washington Business Journal. The annual award allows employees to nominate their employer. Nominated companies receive an online survey of 40 quantitative questions to distribute to their employees. The survey probes their opinions about the organization, managers, co-workers and their own jobs and allows for the respondents to enter qualitative, general comments.

“We’re very pleased that our employees are excited to be a part of the XIO team.” said Mary Ann Wagner. “We take great pride in providing an environment where our employees can thrive, because happy, satisfied workers are more likely to ensure that each client receives the best possible service.”
